Good morning IS201 😊 My name is Sophia from class 731 speaking to you once again on today's Words of Wisdom Wednesday. I would like to announce that today is National New Friends Day. I also want to mention a few words that I first heard in kindergarten and have never forgotten. "Make new friends but keep the old, one is silver, the other is gold." This quote truly emphasizes the fact that no matter how many people we meet in our lifetime, there will always be friends that hold a higher place in our heart than others. It's important to keep true friends who aren't dishonest or rude, but it's also crucial to make new friends since they can turn out to be gold in your heart as well.

Thanks for listening IS201. Have a Willing to Meet New People Wednesday!
